DRY CLEANER IS HURT IN EXPLOSION AT LAUNDRY HERE

Harry Schultz, manager of the dry cleaning department at the Ogden Steam Laundry, was severely burnt about the face and arms this morning when friction of silk material ignited gasoline fumes.

The fire department was called and arrived at the scene of the explosion in time to prevent damage to the quantity of clothing in the department.

Mr. Schultz was removed to the fire station No. 1, where his wounds were treated with the Ambrose treatment, recently acquired by the department. His injuries were not serious, it was stated.

The Ambrose process is an innovation in the treatment of burns and is reported to be wonderful in its results.

The occurrence happened shortly after General Pershing had passed the laundry en route to Lester park.

TEXT OF EXTRADITION LETTER IS REVIEWED

Holland Expected to Refuse to Deliver Former German Emperor to Allies

PARIS, Jan. 16.—The supreme council approved today the text of a letter to the Dutch government asking for the extradition of the former German emperor.

The general expectation in French circles is that Holland will refuse to deliver the former monarch.

It is pointed out in supreme council circles that in case the Dutch government is disinclined to deliver Count Hohenzollern it has a foundation for its resistance in the fact that the offenses named in the peace treaty, namely, "crimes against international morality and the sacredness of treaties" are not provided for in Dutch laws nor in the treaties between Holland and the allied powers regarding extradition.

Service Men Advised to Ask for Awards

If there are any ex-navy men in Ogden who performed services in the late war that deserve special credit, now is the time for them to receive official recognition. The local recruiting officer is in receipt of a message from Washington stating that the board of awards of medals is now in session and that men performing any service involving courage or distinction should communicate with the board at once in order to get official recognition. These statements should be in detail and should be sent to the bureau of navigation, Washington.

ALL EMPLOYEES OF GAS WORKS HERE MAY QUIT JOBS THIS EVENING; MANAGER OF COMPANY ISSUES STATEMENT ON CASE

According to a report in circulation today, the Ogden gas plant employees will walk out this evening. A representative of The Standard called at the office of the Utah Power & Light company today to ascertain the cause of the trouble and the following is Manager Merrill's version of the affair:

"During the early part of December I held a number of meetings with our gas plant employees relative to the working conditions and wages. We were entirely willing to improve a number of conditions at the gas plant, and to add some conveniences and facilities for the benefit of the men. However, I spent considerable time in explaining the financial limitations under which the company operated, and gave them a number of reasons why wage increases could not be granted at that time. It was pointed out to the men that salary adjustments made by the company must affect all employees alike, and that we could not afford to discriminate in favor of any one group.

At the time of our interview we were re-organizing our gas department to a certain extent, and to the recent enlargement of our plant. We were able, therefore, to make a few promotions which carried increased pay. However, the fact that we were not able to definitely promise increased pay to all of the men was unsatisfactory to them, and they then submitted their resignations effective thirty days after the last interview, on Jan. 17th, 1920.

Tests Completed.
"At the present time, we have ten men in the reform house at the gas plant who are employed on a monthly basis. The men had signed our regular thirty-day agreement and their resignations effective thirty days later were in accordance with their contract. For some months past we have also employed six or eight additional men who were employed by the day and who were under no contract with the company. It has been our plan to dispense with the services of the day men as soon as we were able to place the new plant equipment in regular operation. This we did about ten days ago after completing our tests.

GREAT CROWDS CHEER GENERAL PERSHING IN SALT LAKE

(By the Associated Press.)
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 16.—General John J. Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, was acclaimed by Salt Lake residents today on the occasion of his twelve-hour visit here. Hundreds of people and members of the American Legion greeted the general upon his arrival at the railroad station and when he led an automobile parade through the city's main streets, crowds cheered him on every hand.

This afternoon General Pershing is scheduled to make two short addresses, one to students at the University of Utah and the other to school children assembled at the Mormon tabernacle. Later he will inspect Fort Douglas.

Tonight before his departure for Vancouver Barracks, Washington, General Pershing will address a public meeting at the tabernacle and attend a reception at the local Elks' club.

Plans Being Made For Education Drive

Nephil L. Morris and Francis W. Kirkham were the principal speakers at a meeting of educational directors at the Weber club last night. Plans for the campaign to be conducted for the Utah educational campaign will be completed soon and action taken, according to Supt. Karl Hopkins of the local school system.

The state campaign for the organization will be held from February 6 to February 15, inclusive.

President Warren L. Watts, Supt. Karl Hopkins, Senator J. W. Parker, A. R. Farr, O. J. Stilwell and F. W. Briggs also addressed the meeting.

A committee consisting of Mayor Frank Francis, F. M. Briggs, J. L. Eldredge, Jr., A. P. Merrill and D. O. McKay will meet in the near future and appoint a sub-committee in Ogden in the interest of the educational drive.

Deaths and Funerals

TROUT—F. W. Piper, 655 Twenty-fifth street, has received word of the death of Mrs. Aline Chandler Trout, wife of S. J. Trout, formerly a resident of Ogden. Mrs. Trout died in a Pocatello hospital following an operation. Mr. Trout was employed about a year ago in the First National bank but severed his connection to accept a position with the Farmers' and Stockgrowers' bank at Pocatello.

HOOPER—Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie Crompton Hooper will be held in the Ninth ward tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The body may be viewed at the home, 542 Twenty-ninth street.

Manager Returns.

"Last Sunday our general manager and general superintendent, Messrs. Inch and Cheever, returned from the east and immediately announced that they had succeeded in financing a general increase in wages which would be granted to all employees of the company receiving less than $200 per month. At the first opportunity called our stokers in the office and explained how the increase would affect them. I pointed out that their wages would range between $132.50 and $142.50 per month; that the annual two weeks' vacation and the swing shift benefits would still apply as well as our regular sick leave privileges. I pointed out to the men that while we had planned on their leaving in accordance with their resignations, we were entirely willing that they should withdraw them and remain at work. The men later advised me that the wages were satisfactory, as well as our working conditions. They stated, however, that they were unwilling to withdraw their resignations unless we consented to re-employ the day men who were laid off a short time ago. I advised them that we could not consent to employ men whose services were in no way required, or that we could not accept dictation as to whom we might employ at the plant.

"As nearly as I can learn, the whole issue is caused by two men who are not now in our employ. The two men are apparently willing to cause ten men the loss of positions which are entirely satisfactory to them.

"While the loss of our men will quite seriously handicap our operations, we do not anticipate any serious interruption to our gas service.

"The question is essentially the same as the one with which we are concerned in our electrical department, that is, we are to decide whether or not we shall be dominated by outside influence. I understand that the stokers are receiving instructions from Omaha."

At the time the paper went to press, Manager Merrill reported that there was a possibility of the walkout being averted.

LITTLE ITALIAN BOY CAN SEE NO VALUE IN SCHOOL

Some interesting truant cases were brought up today in the juvenile court, Judge Dan Sullivan states. A little Italian boy, who is alleged to be a habitual truant, gave as a reason for his delinquency at school the statement that "men who made the most money never went to school." Judge Sullivan asked the youngster what would be necessary to change his attitude, and the Italian youth stated that he would have to get rid of the idea before he could be convinced that school was necessary.

Another truant case resulted in placing a boy on probation and imposing a fine on the father. The father of the boy is said to have written excuses at the request of the son, whenever the boy wanted to stay away from school. The fine was suspended after the judge warned the parent that forfeiture of the money would be necessary should he continue to write excuses when the boy was not ill.

HUNTSVILLE RESIDENT WRITES LETTER TO STATE ENGINEER

An Open Letter to the State Engineer:
In the issue of January 12 of the Ogden Standard there were two "Notices to Water Users" to appropriate water from the South Fork of Ogden river. One of the applications was made by a private individual and designated in your office as number 8228, and the other was made by an irrigation company and designated as number 8281. Both of these applications were filed in your office after the engineers were on the ground in behalf of the proposed irrigation district. I respectfully call your attention to Section 52, "Irrigation District Law" which reads as follows: "Suspension of Right of Appropriation—Time. For the purpose of preserving the surplus and unappropriated water of any stream or other source of water supply for use by irrigation districts, as provided in this act, the governor, by proclamation, may, upon the recommendation of the state engineer, temporarily suspend the right of the public to appropriate such surplus or unappropriated water, provided that any such suspension shall in no case exceed the term of five years."

I hereby do publicly protest against the granting of either of the applications, and do earnestly petition the honorable state engineer to deny said applications. For the South Fork of Ogden river is one of the "sources of water supply for use by" the proposed irrigation district.

(Signed) PHIL ORTH.

Wool Scouring Plant May be Built in Ogden

Several Weber county sheep men and other interested in the sheep and wool industry were in Salt Lake today in attendance at the annual convention of the Utah Wool Growers' association.

President John M. Thornley and Secretary C. B. Stewart declared there were many problems of vital importance to be taken up and the members could look forward to four "hard business sessions."

Dr. H. M. Rowe of Ogden, is to take part in the discussion as to freight rates on sheep.

Action is likely on a wool scouring plant to be built either in Ogden or Salt Lake.

Sen. Smoot Sees No Reason for Jubilation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Deductions to be drawn from recent voting of college students and faculties on peace treaty issues were disputed today in the senate. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, advising the nation's leader in preventing the latest results, characterizing them as "amazing," in the sentiment for unqualified ratification expressed. About forty per cent of the ballots were cast for ratification without reservations, he said.

"This shows a sentiment for uncompromised ratification much stronger than I had supposed," said Senator Hitchcock.

Senator Smoot, Republican, of Utah, replied that he could see no reason for jubilation by Mr. Hitchcock over the college vote, saying:

"If it had been taken one month after the treaty reached here, ninety per cent would have been for unqualified ratification. Now after being informed, the vote is reduced from 90 to 40 per cent for the treaty as it stands."
